Badger Exclusion & Fence Gates

Oak Exclusion & Fence Gates

Made to our specifications from solid oak, these gates are robust enough to be used for exclusions, while being cheaper than most metal badger gates.

Galvanised Steel Exclusion & Fence Gates

Available either with a solid steel flap (made to order) or with a steel mesh flap, these gates will outlast wooden gates and are extremely strong.

Steel gates are supplied with a one-way stop as standard, which is removable if required.

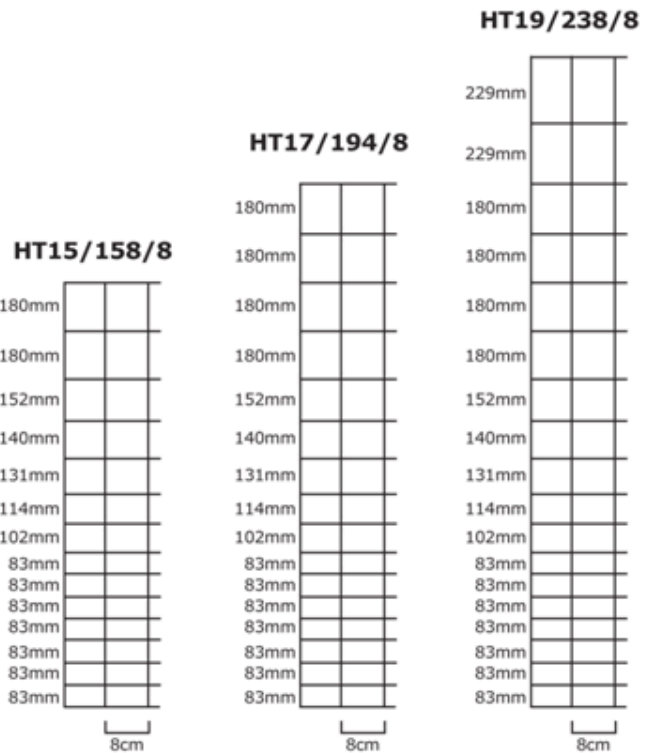

Oak exclusion gates have a removable one-way stop and oak fence gates do not, so please order the correct ones for your requirements.

Badger Fencing

The badger fencing we supply and install is High-Tensile and specifically designed to keep badgers out. Whether you need a fence to keep badgers away from a busy main road or out of your garden, or need a fence for a badger sett exclusion, these fences will do the job.

Available in 50m rolls and in three widths, there is a badger fence to suit you.

Badger Surveys & Bait Marking Studies

We supply a full suite of badger surveying services, from simple checks for badgers in a development area to extensive surveys over wide areas, Ground Penetrating Radar surveys to locate badger tunnels under roads, and bait-marking studies to ascertain badger territorial boundaries.

For those who wish to undertake their own bait-marking studies, whether for personal interest or as part of a professional survey, we can supply food-grade plastic bait-marking pellets in several colours as well as advice if you have never undertaken a bait-marking study before.
